Of David. The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When evildoers assail me to eat up my flesh, my adversaries and foes, it is they who stumble and fall. Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war arise against me, yet I will be confident. One thing have I asked of the LORD, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to gaze upon the beauty of the LORD and to inquire in his temple. For he will hide me in his shelter in the day of trouble; he will conceal me under the cover of his tent; he will lift me high upon a rock. And now my head shall be lifted up above my enemies all around me, and I will offer in his tent sacrifices with shouts of joy; I will sing and make melody to the LORD. Hear, O LORD, when I cry aloud; be gracious to me and answer me! You have said, "Seek my face." My heart says to you, "Your face, LORD, do I seek." Hide not your face from me. Turn not your servant away in anger, O you who have been my help. Cast me not off; forsake me not, O God of my salvation! For my father and my mother have forsaken me, but the LORD will take me in. Teach me your way, O LORD, and lead me on a level path because of my enemies. Give me not up to the will of my adversaries; for false witnesses have risen against me, and they breathe out violence. I believe that I shall look upon the goodness of the LORD in the land of the living! Wait for the LORD; be strong, and let your heart take courage; wait for the LORD! Psalms 27:1-14

Of David. To you, O LORD, I call; my rock, be not deaf to me, lest, if you be silent to me, I become like those who go down to the pit. Hear the voice of my pleas for mercy, when I cry to you for help, when I lift up my hands toward your most holy sanctuary. Do not drag me off with the wicked, with the workers of evil, who speak peace with their neighbors while evil is in their hearts. Give to them according to their work and according to the evil of their deeds; give to them according to the work of their hands; render them their due reward. Because they do not regard the works of the LORD or the work of his hands, he will tear them down and build them up no more. Blessed be the LORD! For he has heard the voice of my pleas for mercy. The LORD is my strength and my shield; in him my heart trusts, and I am helped; my heart exults, and with my song I give thanks to him. The LORD is the strength of his people; he is the saving refuge of his anointed. Oh, save your people and bless your heritage! Be their shepherd and carry them forever.

The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars; the LORD breaks the cedars of Lebanon. He makes Lebanon to skip like a calf, and Sirion like a young wild ox. The voice of the LORD flashes forth flames of fire. The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness; the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh. The voice of the LORD makes the deer give birth and strips the forests bare, and in his temple all cry, "Glory!" The LORD sits enthroned over the flood; the LORD sits enthroned as king forever. May the LORD give strength to his people! May the LORD bless his people with peace!

THE ADVENTURES OF ROOSTER AND BANJO

SWEETIE PIE AND AUNT HONEY PLAY AFTER CHURCH

One morning after church, Aunt Honey was talking to a friend when she noticed someone running her way. Sweetie Pie had decided a while back that Aunt Honey was her favorite person. The little girl bumped into her brother Jet, gave him a giggle and a hug, and continued on her way.

When Sweetie Pie ran up to Aunt Honey, she was swept up into a hug. Sweetie Pie told Aunt Honey all about her Sunday School lesson. "It was a boat. And they all felled out. So we save 'em. We put sticks on they arms."

Aunt Honey had to think about that one. "The Apostle Paul was in a shipwreck?"

Sweetie Pie grinned. "Uh-huh! Dere's a nake!"

"Oh, so this is the shipwreck where a snake bites Paul's hand while he's building a fire?" Sweetie Pie nodded, so Aunt Honey added, "But first, you had to find boards and glue them to the picture so everyone could get to land safely?"

"You know dat one?" Sweetie Pie asked.

"I've heard it once or twice," Aunt Honey agreed.

"We hu-wee!" Sweetie Pie said, waving her arms frantically. "Nobody downed."

"You hurried fast to keep everyone from drowning? Good girl!" Aunt Honey approved. "But Paul was bitten by the snake anyway."

"He ok," Sweetie Pie said. "God got this."

Aunt Honey laughed. "You're right, little darling. We all do the best we can to help people who are in need, but 'we know that all things work together for good to them that love God.' God helps people by sending us sometimes, and sometimes by miracles." (Romans 8:28)

Sweetie Pie was losing interest in her story. She glanced around and spotted something on the stairs nearby. "My bella!" she shouted, squirming to be let down. "My bella!"

Aunt Honey set the child down. "Is that your umbrella?"

"My bella!" Sweetie Pie agreed, grabbing the brightly colored item. Glancing up, she frowned. "Where rain?"

It had been raining earlier, but the sky was clear now. Aunt Honey said, "You can use the umbrella, even when it's not raining."

Sweetie Pie's eyes widened at the idea. She always wanted to do exactly what she pleased. Aunt Honey was constantly amazed at just how sweet the stubborn girl was. This time, doing exactly what she wanted wouldn't hurt anything.

Aunt Honey helped Sweetie Pie open the umbrella, and soon the little girl was prancing around the church yard holding the it high, much to the amusement of her family and friends.

When she got tired of playing with the umbrella, Sweetie Pie remembered Aunt Honey. She went to the stairs and clambered up. There was a side piece that was just made for a little girl to jump safely to the ground. But Sweetie Pie liked it best when Aunt Honey caught her in the air.

Sweetie Pie looked all around. Aunt Honey was gone! Then she spotted Aunt Nana. Not as good as her daughter, Aunt Nana would do in a pinch. Sweetie Pie grinned and waved. Predictably, Aunt Nana walked over. "Am I a stand-in for who you really want?" Aunt Nana asked, accepting a hug from the child. "Did Aunt Honey leave you?"

Sweetie Pie held her hands up in a "I don't know where she is" gesture. Aunt Nana laughed.

"Ok, I'll catch you," Aunt Nana agreed. "But you be careful. No high flying leaps. I'm not as strong as my daughter."

Sweetie Pie grinned and launched herself toward Aunt Nana, who caught her, got a quick hug, and set her down. A few minutes later, a squeal from Sweetie Pie was all Aunt Nana needed to know her replacement had arrived. "She didn't see you," Aunt Nana told her daughter. "So she decided to make do with me."

Aunt Honey laughed. "Okay, Sweetie Pie, I'll take over. But I think Uncle Tractor is finished, so he'll want to leave soon."

Jet had wandered over to stand with Aunt Honey. "Is he my real uncle?" he asked.

"Well, my Mama says she's related to most of Stone County," Aunt Honey said. "So maybe we are cousins or something. But no, the kids at church started calling my parents Aunt Nana and Uncle Tractor when I was your size. When you were little and learning names, you heard your older friends using those names, so that's what you learned."

"Can you be my real aunt?" Jet asked as Aunt Honey caught Sweetie Pie again.

"Probably not," Aunt Honey said. "But the Bible calls Christians brothers and sisters in Christ, so you can be my brother. How's that?"

Jet grinned. "I like that. Do I call you Sister Honey?"

"You can call me anything you like, as long as you call me when it's time to eat," Aunt Honey teased him. Jet rolled his eyes. He was little, but he knew that one. "It's probably easier to just keep calling me Aunt Honey like the other kids do. Being my brother can be our secret. But of course, it's not a secret from your Mama and Daddy."

Jet's eyes glowed. He loved secrets. He especially liked whispering secrets in Mama's ear. And he loved Aunt Honey.

Joy Comes with the Morning

A Psalm of David. A song at the dedication of the temple. I will extol you, O LORD, for you have drawn me up and have not let my foes rejoice over me. O LORD my God, I cried to you for help, and you have healed me. O LORD, you have brought up my soul from Sheol; you restored me to life from among those who go down to the pit. Sing praises to the LORD, O you his saints, and give thanks to his holy name. For his anger is but for a moment, and his favor is for a lifetime. Weeping may tarry for the night, but joy comes with the morning. As for me, I said in my prosperity, "I shall never be moved." By your favor, O LORD, you made my mountain stand strong; you hid your face; I was dismayed. To you, O LORD, I cry, and to the Lord I plead for mercy: "What profit is there in my death, if I go down to the pit? Will the dust praise you? Will it tell of your faithfulness? Hear, O LORD, and be merciful to me! O LORD, be my helper!" You have turned for me my mourning into dancing; you have loosed my sackcloth and clothed me with gladness, that my glory may sing your praise and not be silent. O LORD my God, I will give thanks to you forever!
