What shall we say then? Are we to continue in sin that grace may abound? By no means! How can we who died to sin still live in it? Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. We know that Christ, being raised from the dead, will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him. For the death he died he died to sin, once for all, but the life he lives he lives to God. So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus.

Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, to make you obey its passions. Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. For when you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death.

Or do you not know, brothers, for I am speaking to those who know the law, that the law is binding on a person only as long as he lives? For a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but if her husband dies she is released from the law of marriage. Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man she is not an adulteress. Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. For while we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we are released from the law, having died to that which held us captive, so that we serve in the new way of the Spirit and not in the old way of the written code. What then shall we say? That the law is sin? By no means! Yet if it had not been for the law, I would not have known sin. For I would not have known what it is to covet if the law had not said, "You shall not covet." But sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of covetousness. For apart from the law, sin lies dead. I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died.

For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am of the flesh, sold under sin. For I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand.

THE ADVENTURES OF ROOSTER AND BANJO

DODGE AND SPARKLE HAVE A FUN DAY

Wildflower drove up to Aunt Nana's house the next morning. They had decided she should drop the kids earlier so Wildflower could start her long day while it was cooler.

Aunt Nana stepped onto the porch and waved. The ladies guided the children to the Kids Room, where they snuggled into beds.

"They'll be fine," Aunt Nana reassured her niece. "They're precious. We had a great day yesterday, and today will be better. I'm picking up Sunshine and Daffodil on the way to the waterpark. Daffodil and Dodge are about the same age, and Sparkle can help me with Sunshine."

Wildflower hugged her aunt and hurried off to work, confident that her children were safe and loved.

When Sparkle finally stumbled out of the Kids Room, rubbing her eyes and yawning, she found breakfast waiting on the table. "I'm starving," she declared. "Dodge is waking up, too. We smelled bacon!"

"I like to eat a good breakfast before the waterpark, and then we'll get lunch when we leave," Aunt Nana explained. "Uncle Flick cooked for us, so we got lucky. You go ahead and fix your plate. I'll get Dodge."

Soon, Dodge had his plate ready and Aunt Nana asked, "Do one of you want to ask the blessing?"

Dodge said, "I do... But I only know the kid's rhyme one. Is that ok?"

"Of course it's fine, if you say it and mean it," Uncle Flick said. "But I can teach you a way to say your own prayer, whether it's for your food or another time."

Dodge grinned. Everyone bowed their head and he said, "God is great, God is good, let us thank him for our food. By his hands we are fed, thank you, Lord, for daily bread."

As they started eating, Uncle Flick said, "Jesus taught the disciples the model prayer when he was giving the Sermon on the Mount. It's in Matthew, chapter six. You've probably heard it. He gives a similar model in Luke eleven when the disciples asked him to teach them to pray."

"I know it," Sparkle said. "We did it in Sunday School a few weeks ago. Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed by thy name... Is that it?"

"It is," Uncle Flick said, smiling. "The phrase God is great, God is good is similar to that first section of the Model Prayer, so that's not a bad way to start. Sparkle do you know the next line?"

"Ummm..." Sparkle didn't like being put on the spot, but she could tell that neither adult would embarrass her if she messed up. "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven?"

"Girl, you have a good memory," Aunt Nana said.

Uncle Flick added, "So we want to ask God to help us follow his will. That honors God and it makes our life more peaceful."

"Help me follow you as I should," Dodge said. "Good and should kinda rhyme, too, so it's still a poem."

"Great," Aunt Nana said. "The next line is, Give us this day our daily bread, which means this is the perfect prayer for mealtime, but it can also mean our daily needs."

Dodge said, "Thank you, Lord, for filling my needs."

Uncle Flick said, "That works. Then we have, And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. Debts are sins, times we didn't follow God's plan or law. Jesus explains later in the same chapter that if we don't forgive others, we cannot expect God to forgive us."

Sparkle said, "Ok, lead rhymes with need, so how about, Help me forgive others and follow your lead?"

"I like that," Aunt Nana said.

Uncle Flick said, "The next line is, And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

"Keep me out of trouble!" Dodge exclaimed. "I need that one sometimes."

"And the Model Prayer in the King James Version ends with, For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen," Aunt Nana concluded. "That line is left out in some translations."

"I like it, though," Dodge said. "We should end with it."

"But what rhymes with forever?" Sparkle asked.

"Not much," Uncle Flick said. "Clever? Never?"

"Endeavor!" Sparkle suggested.

"What does that mean?" Dodge asked.

"Like, anything you try to do," Sparkle explained.

"Ok, then, Keep me from trouble in endeavors," Dodge said.

Sparkle nodded, but she was thinking. "I need to write it down," she decided, grabbing the last piece of bacon. She went to the Kids Room for her notebook and came back scribbling. She wrote, crossed out, and stared at her page for a minute. Then she wrote again and smiled.

"I have it," she declared.

"God is great, God is good. Help me follow you as I should.

Thank you, Lord, for meeting my needs. Help me forgive others and follow your lead.

Keep me from harm in every endeavor. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever."

"That's a terrific start to a fun day," Uncle Flick said.

Everyone took a turn reading the prayer and then they hurried to change into waterpark clothes.
